

Last Sunday's Ball Game

Outplayed in all departments, Makaweli trimmed the Lihue Sunday 8-4 in a great ninth inning rally. For seven innings they failed to cross the plate, in the eighth they brought the score 3 all. In the ninth they dented the pan 5 times whilst the Lihue scored once. An unpleasant accident in the first inning was, when Makanani hit the ball towards pitcher Honan the ball somehow striking him between the eyes almost retiring him from the game. The first run for Lihue came in on this. The third inning saw them with two more. Kamaka doubled Fernandes bunted safely and stole. Opunui fanned, Malina singled, scoring Kamaka and Fernandes. The next two were easy outs. In the eighth Makaweli scored on an error single and a home run.

In the ninth with two down, two singles and a home run brought in three runs. Then came two more singles and an error which gave them two more.

In the ninth for Lihue Makanani reached third on a couple of errors. Here catcher Fassoth practically held up the game, because the Lihue players and fans got too near the base line, although nothing was said when the Makaweli players did the same trick in the previous and same inning. Oliver the base umpire tried to be smart by turning the crowd. The latter retired, however, and the game proceeded. Ahana died at first Makenani scoring the next two were disposed of easily.

The game practically gives the championship to Makaweli. They can now afford to lose three games out of the next seven which is unlikely. This would destroy all interest in the game.

The K. A. C's went across country and fleeced the farmers to the tune of 7 to 5 in an interesting game. This victory for the K. A. C's really places it on a par with the best teams since the team which they defeated were victors over the Lihues two weeks ago.

The Makaweli ground was the scene of a one sided game between the Eleeles and Koloas, the former outclassing the latter to such an extent that the game proved all but entirely lacking in interest. At the finale, the score stood 14 to 5 in favor of Eleele.

BASEBALL SEASON IS CLOSED SUNDAY NEXT

With the game at Kilauea between Kilauea and Makaweli next Sunday, and that between Eleele and Homestead, both being postponed games, will end Kauai's first baseball series.

That baseball is a success on Kauai, has been demonstrated beyond all reasonable doubt. When THE GARDEN ISLAND launched its baseball campaign early in the year, it was with an assurance of self confidence in working up enthusiasm in sports, and the successful Fourth of July track and field meet and the highly satisfactory baseball campaign now terminating, bears unmistakable evidence of the correctness of our judgment.

Obstacles have risen during the series which momentarily dampened our enthusiasm, but we are thankful to say that THE GARDEN ISLAND is made of the most optimistic stuff imaginable and if there's anything in the line of Kauai sports in which we can be of service, just hook us on to your band wagon.

The closing series has brought out the fact that on Kauai there is first-class material and next season's games will be looked forward to with much speculation.

The season is closing Sunday, owing to the fact that Makaweli has such a lead that no other team can hope to bring it to defeat. Again, the season being so long, it was decided best to discontinue while the interest in the game is still above par.

We, in behalf of the league wish to assure the patrons of our games, of our appreciation of the interest they have taken, and the pecuniary aid rendered our league.

THE GARDEN ISLAND extends congratulations to Makaweli, the winners, and will also extend the right hand of fellowship in advance for the next season.

THE GARDEN ISLAND extends congratulations to all the teams on their determined efforts to maintain good, clean sports.

To the men who so kindly gave us their time as umpires, we are also duly grateful, and last but not least, the different transportation companies deserve much credit for their generous treatment of our boys.

AMATEUR GAME

The Eleeles played a good game up to the eighth inning when the Koloas got in some pretty stick work and some combination plays which brought them up four steps higher.

Three runs were due to errors on Eleeles part. I. Akana for the Eleele bunch, pitched a winning game, having the visitors on the hip from the start. There were only three hits registered against him during the game.

After the league game was played, two outside teams lined up and an exhibition of ball that for pure and unadulterated unsophisticated rural humor has not been surpassed this season. A one armed man held down short and executed some fancy stunts which made the league's short stops turn green with envy. As to batting, why he swatted a one handed and got off with a two bagger. He also made a sensational catch.
